EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the Title:

The title has been replaced with "Electronic apparatus with liquid crystal display, digitizer, and housing, fastened with screws".

End of examiner's amendment.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 2-6 are allowed.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art does not disclose the device of claim 2. For instance, Niibori does not disclose "fastening said display frame and said backlight module together and fixing said glass panel therebetween" when the elements are identified as done in the rejection of the previous claim 1 in the office action of 9 February 2005. Claim 2 is therefore allowed, as are claims 3-5 which depend on it.

Claim 6 is the method of making the device of claim 2, with a slight variation in the numbering of the holes, so the prior art does not disclose it either. Claim 6 is therefore allowed.

Other than Niibori, other similar prior art references are:

U.S. Patent No. 6,330,150 to Kim discloses screwing various panels together, but not a sensor board, and it is not obvious that a sensor board, if added to the device, would be connected in the manner recited. Similar comments apply to U.S. Patent No. 6,654,078 to Kato et al. and U.S. Patent No. 6,747,713 to Sato.

U.S. Patent No. 6,031,524 to Kunert discloses a sensor board held in place by screws, but without the screws going through holes in the sensor board. Similarly, U.S. Patent No. 5,977,888 to Fujita et al. discloses [see Fig. 54] an LCD and sensor board, held in place by screws, yet without screw-holes in the LCD or sensor board.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
